

Leinster.

STRADBALLY.

Digot & Co.'s

Directory.

town is a chartered school under the direction of the incorporated society of Dublin, which clothes and educates 60 boys, and apprentices them at a proper age. The church is a small building with a tower; the dispensary is supported by subscription and affords seasonable relief to many; and the extensive

Cotton Mills of Mrs. Calcott give employment to great numbers of the industrious poor. Besides a good market on Saturday there are four Fairs in the year; viz. on the 6th of May, the 10th of July, the 21st of August, and the 21st of November. The Population is about 1800.

POST OFFICE.—Post Master, Mr. Thomas Connell. The Mail is conveyed to Maryborough at eight in the evening, and returns next morning at a quarter past seven. The Abbeyleix Mail is conveyed from this office daily, at a quarter before three. Office hours from eight in the morning till ten in the evening.

GENTRY AND CLERGY.

- Anderson Rev. ———
Brereton Capt.
Cassan Rev. Joseph
Cosby Thos. esq. Stradbally Hall
Dowling Rev. Patrick
Dunn John, esq.
Johnson Rev. Hunt
Johnson Major John Allen
Johnson Sir John Allen
Kennis Rev. Thos., Brockley Park
Marsh Rev. Jeremy
Moore Pierce, esq.
Shanley James, esq.
Taylor William, esq.

MERCHANTS, TRADESMEN, &c.

- PROFESSIONAL GENTLEMEN.
Birgin Michael, apothecary
Dunn John, solicitor
Kelly John, coroner
Lawler William Digby, physician
Roberts Philip, clerk of the peace
Wallace Thomas, chartered school
Walsh Edward, solicitor
SHOPKEEPERS, TRADERS, &c.
Bailey Richard, saddler
Barrington T's. saddler & harness mkr
Brown Thos. miller
Birgin Ann, grocer
Byrne John, publican
Byrne James, publican
Calcott Mary, cotton manufacturer
Campbell John, baker
Campbell Michael, baker
Chambers John, tailor
Clegg George, grocer
Delaney Wm. grocer and miller
Dobbin Chas. boot & shoe maker
Dobbin John, cabinet maker
Empy Robert, grocer
Fingleton Patrick, baker
Graves Gilbert, soap boiler
Kelly Michael, publican
Kelly Jeremy, grocer and draper
Large Digby, baker
Lynch & Lawler, grocers & spirit dr
M'Connell Michael, publican
Moore Patrick, tailor
Murphy Henry, boot & shoe maker
Power James, grocer & publican
Roberts Allen, luncheon and iron-monger
Tarlton John, grocer
COACHES.
CORK Mail by Cashell on its road to Dublin at five minutes before ten in the morning through Athy, Naas, & Kilduff to Cork at fifteen minutes before three in the afternoon through Durrrow, Johnstown, and Cashell.
Goods are conveyed to and from Dublin by carshired for the purpose.

SUMMERHILL

IS a small post town in the county of Meath, 19 miles north west of Dublin, five south east of Trim, and five north west of Killeck. It is the property of Lord Longford, whose beautiful domain adjoins the town, and is in the parish of Larracor. The inhabitants tell the stranger with feelings of honourable pride, that this parish gave birth to the present viceroy of Ireland and his illustrious brothers. The Right Honourable Hercules Longford made great improvements in this town, which is built in the form of a square, enclosing a breach green for the use of the inhabitants. There is no weekly Market, but four fairs are held in the year; viz. on the 30th of April, the 9th of June, the 20th of August, and the 26th of November. Population about 300.

POST OFFICE.—Post Mistress, Mrs. Eliza Hore. The Dublin Mail goes by horse to Killeck at four in the afternoon, and returns at half past six next morning.

NOBILITY, GENTRY AND CLERGY.

- Bryan Wm. esq. Spring valley
Fox Joseph, esq. Forte western Irwing Rev. William, Lark hall
Longford Lord, Summerhill castle
Mockler Captain, Glmets
Trotter Rev. David

MERCHANTS, TRADESMEN, &c.

- SHOPKEEPERS &c.
Bly Thos. publican and grocer
Burke Walter, publican and grocer
Kean William, publican
Kearnan Wm. publican and grocer
M'Nabb Saml. carpenter & builder
Tracey John, publican
Trotter David, apothecary

SWORDS,

A POST and fair town in the county of Dublin, situated seven miles north of Dublin, 16 south of Drogheda, eight south west of Skerric, and eight south of Balbriggan, is said to have been the seat of the first Irish Parliament. It is, undoubtedly, of much antiquity, and was formerly a borough. Here are the remains of an extensive old castle, and a Danish tower in good preservation. The new church erected in 1817, is a fine edifice, of the Gothic order. There is also a Roman Catholic Chapel, a road bar rack, a parochial School, and a Dispensary. The situation of Swords is exceedingly pleasant, and its neighbourhood the residence of many respectable families. A fair is held on the 17th of March, and another on the 9th of May. Population about 1500.

POST OFFICE.—Post Master, Mr. Francis Saultford. The Dublin Mail is despatched at five in the morning by the Derry Mail, and arrives at nine in the evening. Office hours from seven in the morning till eleven at night.

Arthur John, esq. Sealer
Curry Rev. James
Evans George, esq. Potter
Allan D. H. esq. Lewtown

PROFESSIONAL

GENTLEMEN.
William James, apothecary
Jackson Thomas, apothecary
Molins James, apothecary

SHOPKEEPERS

TRADESMEN, &c.
Huntmaster John, publican
Cull Patrick, wheelwright
Dunn Patrick, miller
Early Peter, luncheon

A small infant post town of Westford, is situated in the county of Wick, 12 miles west of New Ross. The town has a fair of butter, at which the butter is sold, which months in the year. There is a church, that has only been built in the year 1840, where the Sunday school and other meetings are held. The Rev. Gen. Jones, the p and leaves at twelve at night. Westford mail goes to England and Scotland by the

POST OFFICE.

Hoyd Rev. Ralph, Rector
Coff Wm. esq. Magistrate
Bridge

PROFESSIONAL

GENTLEMEN.
Bomford John, surgeon

SHOPKEEPERS

TRADESMEN, &c.
Bolger Jas. grocer, linen dr
Coff David, school master
Cullinan John, joiner and sh
Daly Stephen, baker
Dempsey John, cooper
Dolan Alex. clothier
Evans Saml. wheelwright
Johnson George, saddler

IN the county of Wick, a post town, situated in the county of Wick, 12 miles south by west of New Ross, and 12 miles east of New Ross, is said to have been the seat of the first Irish Parliament. It is, undoubtedly, of much antiquity, and was formerly a borough. Here are the remains of an extensive old castle, and a Danish tower in good preservation. The new church